

Super Science uncovers groundbreaking developments from across the world. Dissecting technologies with a language that relates to the common man in the street, the new series aims to make 21st century science ever more appealing, and relevant to the masses.

Topics include unmanned military plane and vehicles in Israel, food farming in the US, the latest digital media developed in Japan, and the deep ocean robots in Tasmanian seas.

Episodes:

Israel "Unmanned Military Vehicles"
Australia "Marine Science"
Singapore "City in a Garden"
Israel "Facial Recognition"
Japan "Digital Media"
Singapore "Gesture-based Interaction"
The USA "Food Farming"
China "Solar Valley"